

William Lloyd Garrison

Respected Friend.

I have made nothing like the extensive and varied arrangements as last year but believing that the observance of the occasion has a use and significance I could not abandon it, Just now at all events.

I am anticipating
'Your presence and a few words' - at convenience and though the number as the expense will fall far short of 1858

I hope to have an interesting time -

Remain for the Cause.
Gratefully Yours
Wm. W. C. Hall.

CRISPUS ATTUCKS.

A Meeting and Levee will be held on Monday Evening, March 7th, at upper and lower Chapman Halls, in commemoration of the leadership and martyrdom of CRISPUS ATTUCKS, the colored American, in State Street, Boston, March 5th, 1770, the day which History has selected as the dawn of the American Revolution.

The exercises will consist in part of speeches from a galaxy of distinguished friends of Freedom; interspersed with Vocal Music, original and appropriate to the occasion, performed by volunteer Glee clubs, choice selections on the Piano, augmented by Gates's Full Quadrille Band.

Tickets to the whole, 75 cents each. To be obtained at 21 Cornhill, and at the Door. Admittance to the Meeting, (exclusive,) 10 cents. Doors open at 7 1-2 o'clock. Exercises to commence at 8 o'clock.

The presence of yourself and friends, is respectfully solicited, by

Your obedient servant,

WILLIAM C. NELL.

Boston, February 22d, 1859.
